

MINEFIELD

Items Needed: Blindfolds and other small objects

In a designated area create a minefield with many small objects. Have the group pair up. Have one person from each group pick someone to be first. Blindfold one member of each pair, and have them try to cross the minefield without stepping on any of the mines while their partner (standing behind the line) verbally tells them where to go.

You may have more than one person walking through the field at once, for an added challenge have them walk towards one another.

VARIATION

Have each person write down something that is a challenge. Wad up the papers and throw them in the middle as the objects to avoid.
